

To all our amazing MC3 supporters,

All of us at Motor City Comic Con view YOU, our Attendees, Guests and Exhibitors, as an extension of our family. The energy and excitement you bring every year to Motor City Comic Con makes the rigorous planning worth it. Each year we strive to provide an atmosphere for you to be your authentic selves while having the opportunity to meet and mingle with your favorite celebrity and comic book stars. Since the conclusion of the 2019 Motor City Comic Con our team has been hard at work to provide you an even bigger and better MC3 experience in 2020. Planning requires us to not only provide you the most diverse and fun entertainment but to constantly take into account your health and safety while at the Con, and we've tried our best for 30 years now.

We have been and will continue to closely monitor the COVID-19 situation and work with the Suburban Collection Showplace and Local and State government to make the best decision within the next few weeks, but we're hoping that things will normalize before then, and we will be able to proceed with MC3 as planned. If it becomes necessary for us to postpone the Con to a later date, we will make the announcement here and issue refunds to attendees and exhibitors shortly after.

Our thoughts are with everyone during this uncertain time while understanding that this virus impacts each of us on various levels. We wish we could offer some profound words of wisdom to help you through these unprecedented times but we're at a loss. For now; stay safe, stay healthy and if you're able, offer a helping hand to those who may need it.

Sincerely,

Michael Goldman, Miriam Kruger and the Motor City Comic Con Family
